Colville High School

When sons and daughters of the Colville High
Read this Skookum after years go by,
A magnificent structure they'll recall,
Which, although neither large nor small,
Boasted of students, once its leaders,
Now of fame to many readers.

Educational Influence of Colville High School

By Tom I. Oakshott

Education is not an end, it is a means. It is not a product, it is a process. The purpose of the American public school system is to teach the nobility of labor, reverence for truth, and the beauty of human service.

The Colville High School will soon make its 25th annual contribution to the Nation. Commencing with the class of 1906, this institution has given a high school education to almost 700 young men and women. The time is far too short to definitely know just what heights they may climb, or what marks will be left for the world to remember, but keeping in mind that the purpose of such a school is to build up and develop a clean, high-minded, useful type of citizenship, it has no apology to offer.

The graduates of this school are on the faculties of great institutions of learning; surgeons and chemists in the hospitals and laboratories; conducting financial and mercantile enterprises; at the helm of state, county and city governments; back of humming motors in large factories; out in the open operating farms and helping to feed the world—all contributing their part to the good of the Nation. The bill of this community for their education has been paid in full.

It is also a matter of sacred remembrance to recall that in 1917, when the fate of this Nation was hanging in the balance, 155 of its manhood, which was one-half of its living alumni, responded to the call to arms in defense of this Republic and its institutions in which they had been instructed. Some of them did not come back, but paid a supreme sacrifice. They gave their lives for their country, "unquestioning, uncomplaining, with faith in their hearts and hope on their lips that America should triumph and its civilization survive." Whatever bill this district had against them for an education was paid with heavy interest.

The beauty and inspiration of life lies in tradition. You have a heritage to maintain. You can best follow the tradition of this school by finding that which will enable you to render your best service to mankind and train your ability to further that service.

Through its graduates our school, like all others, has been weighed in the balance. It has not been found wanting, but has well contributed its part to the improvement of human society. Let it continue to exist, showing forth to the young men and women of this community "the way, the truth, and the light."

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Our work on this annual volume of "The Skookum" completed, we feel that we have been highly successful in our attempt to give the students of the Colville High School a book of memories, which may in later years add more endearment to their school days spent here.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who have helped us to make "The 1931 Skookum" a success.

The Staff is deeply indebted to Mr. R. C. Patrick, who, as faculty adviser, has contributed loyally to the welfare of "The Skookum" since its beginning.

Great assistance in a financial way has been given by those giving advertisements, and to them we extend our sincere thanks. We also greatly appreciate the help given by Clinton Hydorn in the preparation of this volume.

And now, to those who are leaving the school this year, we wish every success in life—to those who are to return, a happy vacation and greater years to come.

LUCY MOSHER, Editor.

Synopsis of an Indian Schoolhood

Act I. Time, Year 1927-28. Cast, Class of '31.

The gay, laughing Freshmen entered upon their last year in Junior High School with high spirits for the future. The Chief, "Edwin Henderson," and the young Brave, Kenneth Stone, led them through many perils to safety. Members of the class showed their ability in the handling of the Student Association, and others showed their merit in football and basketball.

Indian Brave, Kenneth, yet again steered the class over rocky roads, with the assistance of the great Chief "Red." During this second period new talent for dramatics was disclosed and portrayed in the productions of the Junior High School. Thus ended the first lapse of the journey of the Class of '31.

Act II. Time, Year 1928-29. Cast, Class of '31.

Following their high sway of the year before, the class was a little let down by the turn of events when entering upon the first year of Senior High School. Nevertheless, led again by Kenney, they held their own with the upper classmen, although having lost several braves and maidens during the summer season. The Chief, who helped the coming Indians, was none other than Robert C. Patrick.

For the last part of their pilgrimage of the second year, the class had as their leader the fair Indian maiden, Catherine Spedden. As in the foregoing year, the class distinguished themselves by originality in everything in which they participated. Among the many things which they accomplished was the party given in honor of the Freshmen. Thus ended the second part of their journey.

Act III. Time, Year 1929-30. Cast, Class of '31.

The Class of '31 entered upon the third lapse of its journey, having again wisely chosen Kenneth Stone to steer them through the great year. The class still carried on, even though losing several more braves and maidens. Athletes, actors, orators, and executive members, were brought to light in the progressing of the Class of '31. All of these things were accomplished with the aid of fair Miss Regina Cooper as class adviser.

This marked an era in the progress of the class. Under the able coaching of Miss Regina Cooper, the class presented "Skidding," one of the best plays ever staged in the High School. To add another distinct feature to the list of activities, was the unique Japanese Junior Prom, which was given in honor of the high and mighty Seniors. Again the class felt proud to rest for three months before again showing their wisdom in school affairs.

Act IV. Time, Year 1930-31. Cast, Class of '31.

The final step in the journey having been reached, the mighty Seniors felt that they had played their part well. As their just and fit leader for the last period spent in Senior High, the class chose the fair maiden, Lucy Jane Mosher, to bear the responsibilities. A very able Chief was Miss Regina Cooper to help carry out the activities of the group. Six of our fair maidens displayed their ability for playing basketball by making the regular squad, and the braves kept pace with them, with eight members participating in football and basketball.

Led again by Lucy Jane and Miss Regina Cooper, the Senior Class left

memories to the remainder of the school by claiming the winning orator, through forming many lasting friendships, with the production of the Senior Play, and by leaving a memorial to the school. The class feels that they have progressed well and far in their journey through High School. With this thought in mind they bid the dear old school and friends farewell.

Class Will

We, the Class of '31, who've fought our battle long, and won,
 Leave to all the Juniors here the qualities we hold most dear.
 That they may all their tasks fulfill,
 We hereby publish our last will.
 We bequeath, first of all, to the dear old school,
 Our humor, good judgment, and will to rule.
 To the seniors of next year, our loved class adviser,
 Miss Cooper, who faithfully guides and makes wiser.
 To the ones of the future we now make so bold
 As to leave our R. Patrick and tickets unsold.
 To Miss Hazel Flower, our sweet, winning ways,
 To help capture Walt Wildey the rest of his days.
 Our greetings to Mitchell and Jenkins, so dignified
 In the Faculty Vodvil. We laughed 'til we nearly died.
 To students of science, one moment we lend,
 So that lateness will not Mr. Herbage offend.
 To the Sophomore Class, just a bit of advice:
 "Love thy teacher." "Don't brag," if you'd be Seniors nice.
 And now each of us has a single request
 To leave to some other a quality blest.
 Ralph Mifflin to Dick Camp and Dean Stapleton—
 "A little man, too, was Napoleon."
 L. McKern gives D. Scoles his loud voice and his perch
 On the hood of a car—basketball crowds to search.
 Clara Rockwell, her shy, modest mien doth commit
 To Don Campbell, in vain hopes that he will use it.
 Dot Hanson, her bottle of "tonic" addresses
 To Elsie M. and Mil. Johnson, as they seek for long tresses.
 Byron Lind leaves his "irons" for a real marcel wave
 To Clydie O'Keefe. "Hope the kinks will behave."
 Kenneth Stone hasn't aught he can leave to posterity,
 Save a piece of chewed gum and a spiced notoriety.
 Theo. Brooks leaves his luck in his test and his fine "pull"
 With the teacher of science, to make someone successful.
 Lois English, to her little sister, Gayle, doth make this plea,
 She'll not overload, or break the plate glass windows in "Whoopee."
 Herman Lindow leaves the Hydorn lad his boyish sweetness mild.
 Eula Durkee to Wilma Harlan—her place of "only child."
 Mary Pump doth leave to Lida, love and basketball advice.
 So that Colville never will the victory have to sacrifice.

George Knapp and Gerald Swartout leave their hungry looks and lean
 To Billie Burnett, and say "It keeps our minds more keen."
 To any "bookish" people or librarians of the future,
 D. Koerner, Harriet Mathis, and C. Spedden leave their ways demure.
 Webb Wells, his fetching ways to Ted Bender decided to send,
 In hope that Ted may get himself a lovely lady friend.
 Viv Smith and Vio Seney leave ten extra pounds of weight
 To Beth Dane and Lyda Flansburg, to help keep them sedate.
 L. Stevens leaves her high notes and little music treats
 For Senior program use next year to Ruthie Myrtle Dietz.
 John George, to Wallace Bannon and to Bud Mahoney, cash
 To buy a cup just made to care for "bigga black mustache."
 Cliff Webb now leaves his football suit to big Bob Morrison;
 And Floryn Rhode his bashfulness to Tressa Kennison.
 M. Camp and Irene Hardin leave their elevator thrills
 To Freda Vine, Ruth Shepherdson, with hopes for spiny chills.
 Floyd Hall, his place as "Senor" in a great big class of girls,
 He leaves to any boy with nerve and Spanish words to hurl.
 Marion Wright and H. McGregor leave two suits of rompers red
 To basketball and girls who'll keep the Colville score ahead.
 Ann Renninger, her typing desk, so neat and black and strong,
 She leaves, because it is too big for her to take along.
 George Webb and Ralda Day leave can openers and catsup
 To other little girls who'll batch and try to keep the house up.
 Eletha Hoeft to Buck McCammon and his colleague, Benton Bailey,
 Sends the gift of leaving school on morn and afternoon daily.
 Sylvia Myers leaves a valued gift to little Eunice More,
 Her "pomes" and readings in her public speaking repertoire.
 Paul Coffey leaves his brilliance and his aptitude for speed
 To Hughie Claar, in hope he may the rest the class exceed.
 Lucy Mosher leaves her offices and many activities
 To tall Francis Benson, who'll go to the top with ease.
 Ev Moser, her wave and the laughter in eyes,
 Leaves to match Mazie Smith's smile and comical guise.
 Some Seniors leave outstanding "track places" elegant
 To Juniors they hope will prove worthy contestants.
 Mich Day to Bob Hanna her much envied place
 In the "standing broad grin" showing plain on her face.
 Marian Smith, who at "high and low gurgles" was winner,
 Leaves her place to Dorris Thomas, who is but a beginner.
 Evelyn Hughes and Theresa Schuerman, their place in the "shout put"
 To Ev Hoeft, Enid Stevens, to increase voice output.
 Thelma Curry, her place in the "standing broad bluff"
 To Evelyn Johnson, so she'll have enough.
 The scribes of the Class of '31,                      The choicest traits we each possess,
 Thinking of life that's just begun,                      To bring new Seniors happiness,
 Do here affix our hand and seal,                      To give them of our illustrious ups,
 As we bequeath in manner real                      And hasten our departing steps.
 (Signed): Class of '31.      Witness: Catherine Spedden.

The Juniors' pilgrimage through the year 1930-31 has been happy because the journey itself was a part of the destination. They enjoyed their travels as well as the anticipation of the end.

The Junior Play was an event which proved that we were ascending on the path of experience and knowledge. Some members of the party led in athletics, others in orchestra and other activities. They also showed their wisdom in the choice of a class ring, having the High School Symbol, the Indian.

The climax that marked the ascent as memorable was the Junior Prom, but the last height was reached on the day school was dismissed. We have no more climbing for three months, but we are proud of our attainment, thus far.

—Marie Summers.

The Sophomore class of this year has excelled in pep and scholastic ability, being the only class to have one or more members on the honor roll every six weeks' period.

All of the parties and programs sponsored by this class have been very successful.

Members of the class will have prominent places in athletics next year, after being "runners-up" for positions this year.

G. H. A. C.

Six years ago, as a further inducement to girls to share the honors and benefits from athletics, Miss Regina I. Seifert introduced this organization. It is now a lively club, under the direction of Miss Edith Roberts.

The winning of a major letter in athletics qualifies a girl for membership.

Girls' League

The Girls' League, an organization including every girl in the High School, is a medium through which the girls may become better acquainted with one another.

During the year several prominent men and women gave instructive and interesting talks, and many beneficial discussions were held.

The Girls' League gave several successful parties and entertainments, among which were a hobo party for the girls, a unique mothers' tea, and a clever Tolo Shipwreck Party to entertain the Boys' League.

The Boys' League, including every boy in the High School, is a medium through which the boys can become better acquainted. Twice monthly the boys meet to discuss business and to hear speeches by the business men of Colville. Many interesting and beneficial discussions are held during these meetings which give much real pleasure and profit.

During the year the League sponsored a very interesting dance for the girls and an exciting smoker for the general public.

Due to having to meet after school, this year's Boys' Glee Club was quite small. The boys, however, were all faithful and turned out each Monday and Wednesday, from 3:30 until 4 o'clock. Much work was done to harmonize voices. A quartet selected from the club made appearances before the High School assembly, the Kiwanis Club, and broadcast over KFPY in Spokane. Eula Durkee was accompanist.

Orchestra

Loren Love, piano; Gayle English, Eula Durkee, Jennie Chitwood, Bob Dunham, violins; Carmen Kopsland, Evelyn Johnson, saxophones; Russell Norenberg, clarinet; Donald Diehl, drums; Wade Richardson, banjo.

Under the instruction of a capable leader, Mr. Lester Copner, the Colville High School Orchestra has completed a very successful year. This orchestra, consisting of ten members, has played for almost all productions and furnished the music for one dance. All the members except one will be back next year.

Operetta

Under the direction of Miss Irene Nagel, the three-act comic operetta, "In the Garden of the Shah," was a great success. It was presented in the Senior High School Auditorium, April 17.

The scene of this operetta is laid in Persia, Asia.

Billy and Ted, two American mining engineers, come to Persia to work in the Shah's gold mines. Ted falls in love with Zohdah, the Shah's daughter, and Billy falls in love with Lohlah, Zohdah's girl chum, while Zohdah's old nurse, Nowobeh, pursues Sam, the boy's colored servant.

The Shah has other plans for his daughter's future, and returns with Samecraba, an Arab shiek, whom he wishes Zohdah to marry.

The shiek turns out to be an impostor, and the Shah throws Ted and Billy into prison for their attentions to Zohdah, Lohlah and Nowobeh.

As Ted says, "All's well that ends well, and you may soon expect invitations to a triple wedding in the Garden of the Shah."

Junior Play

"Square Crooks," a three-act comedy, written by James P. Judge, was presented by the Junior Class on November 21.

This was one of the most successful and entertaining plays presented to a Colville audience for several years. Its success was due mainly to the capable coaching of Miss Regina Cooper.

The cast—Don Campbell, Dorothy Bone, Bud Mahoney, Mildred Johnson, Wallace Bannon, Benton Bailey, Delbert Scoles, Bob Dunham, Marie Summers, Cleora Hoover.

Property mistress, Ruth Shepherdson; prompter, Thelma Huck; stage manager, Wallace Bannon.

—Don Campbell

Senior Play

Miss E. Regina Cooper, Director

The Senior Class presented on May 8 a three-act play, "The Goose Hangs High," by Lewis Beach. The play was a delightful entertainment, presenting the home life, troubles, trials and joys of a typical American family. The love of parents for their children, and the deep-founded love of those children for their parents, give rise to the situations in the play.

The cast—Webb Wells, Lucy Mosher, Floyd Hall, Floryn Rhode, Lois English, Evelyn Hughes, Catherine Spedden, Byron Lind, Herman Lindow, Kenneth Stone, Ralda Day, Lester McKern, John George.

Prompter, Marion Wright; electrician and stage manager, Floryn Rhode; properties, Marian Smith; publicity, Lester McKern; business manager, Ralph Mifflin.

On the Gridiron

Don Campbell, Fullback—Don's ability to pass was an asset in scoring and a feature of several games. He will be back next year.

Benton Bailey, Guard—Although comparatively smaller than other members of the squad, Benton's playing, both on offense and defense, was a distinct feature of every contest.

Hughie Claar, Halfback—Claar was one of the outstanding backs in the league. He would have been chosen to play in the Shrine game had it not been for injuries which kept him out of a couple of games.

Everett McCammon, Halfback—Passing combination from Campbell to McCammon was a bane to the existence of opposing players.

Clifford Webb, Halfback—Webb was the fastest man on the squad, and used his speed effectively in the open. He will be missed next year.

Clinton Hydorn, Quarterback—Hydorn was a good signal barker, and his aggressiveness, along with his ability to carry the pigskin, spelled disaster to some of the opposing teams.

Wallace Bannon, End—Being a good pass receiver, he was always a threat. Few gains were made around this end.

Floryn Rhode, End—Floryn's ability to cover punts always brought us out on top in the exchange of punts. Rhode will be graduated this year.

Bob Morrison, Tackle—Bob was in the thick of the battle of every game, and his "never-say-die" spirit was an inspiration to the other members of the squad.

Dave Williams, Center—Dave was light for this position, but he filled it capably. Next year Dave should be a "star" linesman for Colville.

Ray Paxton, Tackle—Although only a Sophomore, his playing came up to the standard of an experienced man. Much is expected from him next year.

Byron Lind, Tackle—Lind started the season playing good football, but because of injuries, he was kept out of most of the last games. He will not be back next year.

Dale Wiley, Guard—Wiley played good football at guard, to which position he was shifted from fullback, where he played last year. Dale will be missed next season.

Bob Ledgerwood, Fullback—In all the games in which he took part, Bob showed his ability. The offense next year will probably be built around him.

Francis Benson, Center—Francis always played hard in every game in which he took part.

Ted Bender, Tackle—Ted is one of those light, tough players who make a big man earn his laurels. His spirit was outstanding, and he should play a lot of football next year.

Jake Ronald, Guard—Jake's consistent playing was one of the reasons that Colville had a successful season this year.

Clarence Allgor, Guard—Clarence performed well when he was put into a game. He showed up especially well in the Republic game.

Floyd Hall, End—It is too bad that Floyd has not another year or two to put in playing football for Colville. He was a good player, and will be missed next year.

Wallace Anderson, End—Wally proved convincingly that one may be handicapped by lack of weight and still play football. Next year he will see plenty of action.

Russell Norenberg, End—Russell was handicapped by an old injury in his wrist. He will be in good condition next season and will play a great deal.

Paul Coffey—Coffey played equally well at guard and tackle, and performed capably whenever he was sent into a game.

Theo Brooks, Manager—Theo is one who performed his tasks and always had a smile. He took care of the equipment, and did it exceedingly well.

Colville had a very successful season, winning five games out of the eight scheduled games. This was Coach Jimmy Mitchell's first year here, and he had green material to work with, but he developed a team which efficiently held up the honors for Colville.

All Hail to the Team

Hark, ye people! Lend an ear,
If a story true you'd hear.
Colville High School 1930
Makes the setting for their story.

Announcements in general assembly went thus:
"If you aspire to be champions, as you do, I trust,

Hie you hence, where awaits a coach,
Of whose championships we all might boast.

Hie them hence they quickly did,
Their basketball coach to see.
'Twas none other than Miss Roberts,
Ready to coach them to victory.

Long practice sessions daily,
Till at last it fair would seem
Theirs was a basket squad
Fit to challenge any team.

Then came a night of combat,
With ancient rivals in the sport.
Ah! How quickly were they vanquished
From Colville's maple court.

Many games were played that season
By this courageous loyal squad;
Each deserves her name be written
In "The Hall of Fame," reserved for "Gods."

Captain Mary, tall and agile,
Dependable and fast,
With Agnes and Georgia as running mates,
All rivals were outclassed.

At basket shooting, Marion and Lois did excel
To the nth degree of perfection,
And you'll hear many a critic tell
How Ralda, Catherine, and Lida,
Guards of an enviable caliber,
Kept all opponents in constant fear.

To Lucy, an emblazoned pennant
Should be given for her work.
A manager she, of ability,
And duties never shirked.

Thus the 1930 season
Did pass in Colville High;
Many games were hard contested,
As this team did nobly vie
With others in their county
To be champions or die.
And when the crucial game was played,
Lo! It ended in a tie.

All hail, to this deserving team
Who did strive—and not in vain;
For from now till time immortal,
Remembered shall be their fame.

—L. E. B.

Baseball

Baseball, the spring sport for boys, showed quite a large turnout this year. Owing to graduation of many of last year's players, little was expected of this year's baseball team. However, they gave us all a surprise by displaying their ability to win and hold their own against all the teams they contested with.

Tennis

The students turning out for tennis this year were as follows: Mary Pump, Evelyn Johnson, Lida Pump, Georgia Webb, Carmen Kopsland, Dave Williams, Dean Stapleton, Harold Rice, and Clinton Hydorn. In girls' singles Mary Pump represented the school, and in girls' doubles Mary Pump and another girl, while in boys' the singles representative was Dean Stapleton, the other boys participating in the boys' doubles and mixed doubles. In the county meet which was scheduled for May 16, the above students represented the High School. The tennis players kept the courts in repair, and for their practice they played either after school or in the early morning.

Smoker

On Friday, March 13, the Boys' Club of C. H. S. sponsored a smoker. Participants in the smoker, which consisted of both boxing and wrestling, were from Colville, Chewelah and Addy. From the standpoint of bouts won, Colville was the victor.

The results in boxing were as follows:

Main Event—Adolf Hedrick, 175 pounds, of Colville knocked out John George, 175 pounds, of Colville in the first round.

Semi-Final—Floryn Rhode, 145 pounds, of Colville knocked out Benny Spray of Chewelah in the fourth round.

ADDED ATTRACTIONS

Clark Lynn, 132 pounds, Colville, won a decision over Ray Potter, 130 pounds, of Chewelah.

Bob Staeheli, 127 pounds, of Colville, fought a draw with Cecil Duncan, 128 pounds, of Chewelah.

Stanley Gilbert, 145 pounds, of Colville, fought a draw with "Tuffy" Clark, 150 pounds, of Chewelah.

Clark Hedric, 145 pounds, of Colville, lost a decision to Sigurd Forslund, 150 pounds, of Chewelah.

Ruben Eglund, 128 pounds, of Addy, won a decision over Charles Lind, 130 pounds, of Addy.

IN THE WRESTLING EVENTS

Frank Hedrick, 145 pounds, of Colville, won over Bud Bunker, 145 pounds, of Chewelah.

Joe O'Brien, 130 pounds, of Colville, won over Clyde O'Keefe, 130 pounds, of Colville.

Ted Bender wrestled a draw with Bob Ledgerwood.

A special feature of the evening was an exhibition wrestling match between Stanley Bishop, Washington State College, and Mal Miller of Colville. The gymnasium was filled to capacity, and all of the bouts went off as scheduled.

—Delbert Scoles

Volley Ball

Boys' and girls' volleyball teams were organized to give recreation to students who had not been able to participate in other activities. These two teams were the ones that represented the Student Body on Field Day.

Student Conference

ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL VOCATIONAL AND EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

Catherine Spedden and Floryn Rhode, Seniors, and Gayle English and Delbert Scoles, Juniors, represented Colville High School at the Student Conference held at Pullman, April 23, 24 and 25. They were chaperoned by Miss Irene Nagel.

The conference is held each year to acquaint High School students in the State with the courses of study offered at the State College, and to give them an insight into the varied interests of college life.

Some of the highlights of the program were the college play and entertainments given by the Varsity Quartet, the College Band, and the Glee Clubs. The speaker especially featured was Dr. H. S. Taylor, who gave two speeches on "Vocations."

Agricultural Meeting

Clarence Hamp, Adolf Hedrick, and Clark Hedrick, represented Colville High School at the annual Agricultural Convention held at Washington State College in Pullman, from April 29 to May 2, inclusive.

Three boys from each agricultural high school in the state are invited to attend.

Entertainment was sponsored by the college of agriculture of the State College of Washington. The boys were privileged to enter different contests including the judging of agricultural products and engineering problems. There were recreation periods in the field house and educational talks given by agriculture professors.

Junior Prom

On the evening of May 1, Junior Prom, the annual spring semi-formal, given for the Seniors by the Juniors, was a sight to behold. A spring garden effect, featuring a large mellow moon, was beautifully carried out. Peppy music was furnished by Lynch's orchestra. The attractive dance programs were an added feature of the evening. Punch was served in a cozy little rose arbor.

Refreshment Committee—Dorris Thomas, Esther Hanna, Freda Vine.

Entertainment Committee—Delbert Scoles, Evelyn Johnson, Benton Bailey, Thelma Lunceford, Hughie Claar.

Decoration Committee—Kathryne Gordy, Carmen Kopsland, Dorothy Bone, Helen Hirsch.

Invitation Committee—Blanche Gourlay, Ruth Shepherdson, Agnes Carlson.

Reception Committee—Ruth Shepherdson, Mazie Smith, Marie Summers.

Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. and Mrs. H. Wade Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Campbell, Mrs. Lida Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Spedden, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lon Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rhode, Mr. Tom I. Oakshott, Mrs. R. F. Goetter.

All High Mixer

The G. H. A. C. and "C" Club sponsored the All-High Mixer given Sep. 23. This is a yearly event which has been taken over by the two clubs for the past three years. As usual, it was a success, with clever decorations, snappy numbers between dances, and refreshments in the form of punch and wafers.

Hobo Party

The Girls' League gave the most unique party of the year on Friday, Nov. 7, when they entertained at a Hobo Dance. The decorations were in keeping with the hobo motive. Every girl present was arrayed in the regalia of a real old-fashioned hobo, whiskers, ragged and patched shirt and trousers, with and without shoes, toothless, and all the earmarks of a regular bum. The theme song of the evening was "Bum Again." First prize was awarded to Ruth Deitz and second prize to Frances May. A program in keeping with the affair was furnished by Rose Staeheli, Gayle English, Cleora Hoover, Percy Lawrence, and Pearl Wiley.

—Rose Staeheli

All High Party

After being victorious over the Republic football squad in a hard-fought battle, Nov. 7, the students celebrated by having a dance in the gymnasium. A clever program was given, and refreshments were served. The "Seven Devils" furnished peppy music. Lots of fun.

—Carmen Kopsland

Soph-Fresh Party

The Sophies gave a party.

The leaves in hundreds came;

The ashes, oaks and maples,

And trees of every name.

—Just to furnish the decoration.

The gym floor was all bright and shiny;

Everything was grand.

The Sophs and Freshies gaily danced

To Robert Dunham's band.

—Just to keep the blues away.

The program was so snappy;

The refreshments, too, were fine.

The Freshies then resolved

To give the Sophs as good a time.

—Just to furnish recompense.

—Alice Knapp

Senior-Soph Party

The victorious Juniors were entertained by the Sophs and Seniors on March 6, following a successful ticket selling contest for the Chewelah basketball game. The gymnasium was cleverly decorated, using crepe paper, balloons, and confetti. Music was furnished by the "Seven Devils" orchestra, and everyone who attended had an enjoyable evening.

—Ralda Day

Shipwreck Party

Robinson Crusoe would have felt very much at home had he visited the Colville High School gymnasium on the evening of March 27, when the Girls' League entertained the boys of the school at a "Shipwrecked Party." One could not help but feel that he were on some deserted island if he but glanced at the life savers in the four corners of the gymnasium and the white flag waving over the orchestra in the center of the floor. The girls and boys both proved to be very good sports in participating in "Tolo Night."

—Lois English

Boys' League Party

A return "Tolo" dance was given by the Boys' League on the evening of April 24. The boys showed the girls that they could also be good sports, and the girls portrayed their appreciation by having a marvelous evening, enjoying everything which their charming hosts presented. Music was furnished by the "Seven Devils."

Junior High School

The Colville Junior High School was organized in 1926 to meet the demands for a broader and more intensive curriculum; to offer a larger variety of courses; to secure better teaching; to provide for individual differences of pupils; to make the transition from grade to high school easier; to give a thorough training in citizenship, and to offer vocational courses in foreign languages, science, music and art.

In the short existence of our Junior High School we have been very successful in scholastics, as well as athletics. Many honors have been awarded students in both. In the county meet we won honors in spelling, declamation, art, home economics, manual arts, volley ball and baseball.

The students are especially proud of their athletic record. So far there have been four championship football teams, two champion boys' and girls' basketball teams, three championship baseball teams, and three championship girls' and boys' volley ball teams.

Some remarkable plays have been produced by the students. Each play is produced with a different cast, to offer more students an opportunity in self expression.

This Freshman Class has been as outstanding in all school activities as its predecessors. Besides having a high rating scholastically, it has sponsored various activities, both in the athletic and social field, all of which have been an outstanding success. They have presented many splendid programs and helped to raise money for the Junior High section of the Annual by sponsoring an "Ali Fools' Dance" in the High School Gymnasium, which was an outstanding success. Most of our athletes, in both boys' and girls' athletics, were from the Freshman Class.

Class Motto—Give to the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you.

The Wizard of Oz

Staged by Miss Ruth Schaller.

The only Junior High School play of the year was presented on October 3, 1930, in the High School Auditorium. "The Wizard of Oz" proved to be a beautiful play and fantasy. The scenes were especially beautiful in the land of Oz. Little Dorothy of Kansas suddenly found herself in the land of Oz, where she met strange people, and had to perform unusual things, before she could return to her aunt and uncle in Kansas. The settings and lighting effects made the play especially pretty.

Feeling the need for a Junior High School Orchestra, Joyce Ledgerwood and Virginia Kopsland asked to see everyone in school who could play an instrument. From those present they selected the above musicians. They practiced after school in the homes of the members, and with the aid of Mrs. Theron Lynch, improved greatly. Their first public appearance was at the Freshman "All Fools'" dance, where, with John Ingle as director, they alternated with the High School Orchestra. During their many public appearances since, they have been very favorably received.

Glee Clubs

Miss Irene Nagel, Director

We are especially proud of the fine work that has been done by both the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs. The boys meet on Monday and Wednesday, and the girls meet on Tuesday and Thursday for a period each day. They worked on two-part songs most of the year. Some very fine voices have been discovered, and with the training they have received this year, it should enable the High School to do some fine work in operettas. The clubs made several public appearances. Lois Bender is the pianist for both clubs.

Football

Mr. Edwin S. Henderson, Coach
 Mr. Walter Wildey, Assistant

For the fourth consecutive year, the Junior High School has won the county football championship. With but two experienced men back, it was necessary to build an entirely new team from green material. We defeated all the Junior High teams we played, and made a fine showing against Gonzaga High School's third team.

For his leadership, courage and ability to rip off yardage, even after being tackled by several opponents, Floyd Morris was elected Honorary Captain. This was Floyd's first year, and he is bright material for any High School.

Girls' Basketball

Miss Ruth Schaller, Coach

The 1930-31 girls' basketball season was a winning one. About forty girls reported for practice. The squad practiced two or three nights a week, and much progress was made. The seventh, eighth and ninth grades were about equally represented. However, all but two of the letter winners were Freshmen.

The team was the county champion, as it was victorious in all the games with the second teams and Junior High School teams of the county. The girls played a good game of basketball, showing sportsmanship and teamwork. We can be proud of them.

Those winning letters were: Maxine Casey (Manager), Edna Martin, Anna Koerner, Lois Bender, Florence Hamp, Evelyn Hanson, Bertha Buchanan, Mabel MacDonald, Barbara Mifflin, Othel O'Keefe, June Nixon, Alice Benson, and Olive Peterson.

Baseball

Walter Wildey, Junior High Coach
Edwin Henderson, Grade Coach

We had an excellent Junior High team last year. Out of 12 games played, we won every game and annexed another championship to our many trophies. Our Grade won the championship of the North Half, but were defeated in the county meet.

Both the Junior and Grade teams have made a good start on the 1931 season by defeating all the teams they have played so far this year. The Junior High has defeated Marcus High and Kettle Falls Junior High teams, and the Grade has won from Valley. The county is awarding silver cups instead of pennants to both teams this year. We are in hopes, with the bright outlook we have, that we can annex both cups to our many other awards we have won. There are several games scheduled for both teams to be played yet.

Golden "C" Club

Mr. Edwin Henderson, Adviser

The Golden "C" Club is an organization of boys who have made letters in one of the major Junior High School sports by playing a majority of halves in each sport. Sometimes a boy is voted in because he has faithfully turned out for all athletics, and has never played enough in any one sport to entitle him to a letter. This is true this year of a number of boys in the club. The primary motive of the club is to develop an interest in athletics and promote a feeling of good fellowship among the students.

From this club has come the "Papoose Club," an honorary athletic club. To become a member, one must have earned two letters in major sports and have a scholastic standing of C or better.

Our annual initiation and banquet was held on January 12, in the Home Economics rooms. The food was prepared and served by the members of the club. The initiation for those receiving basketball and baseball letters will be held at the Pend Oreille lakes sometime in May.

Girls' "C" Club

Miss Ruth Schaller, Adviser

The only athletic club for girls in school is the Girls' "C" Club. It is composed of the Yell Queen and the girls who are awarded letters for participation in Junior High School athletics. The only sport in the Junior High School for girls for which letters are given is basketball. The purpose of the club is to foster sportsmanship among the girls of the school and to increase interest and participation in all athletics. The girls prepared and served a delicious dinner to all the members and Miss Schaller. The new members were initiated at this time.

Girls' League

Mrs. Fred Thomas, Adviser

The Girls' League of the Junior High School was organized in the fall of 1929. The purpose of this organization is fourfold, viz.: To create among all the girls of the Junior High a spirit of friendliness and cooperation, to foster the highest ideals of womanhood, to arouse loyalty of the girls toward all members of the League and to promote the welfare of the Colville Junior High School in every way.

The slogan adopted by the girls is, "The Girls' League for every girl in the J. H. S., and every girl in the J. H. S. for the Girls' League."

The annual activities of the Girls' League are as follows: Kid Party early in the Fall, entertainment given for the Boys' Federation in the Winter and the Mothers' Tea in May.

Boys' Federation

Mr. Edwin Henderson, Adviser

The Boys' Federation was organized during the year 1929 to foster a spirit of friendliness, happiness and cooperation among the boys and girls of the Junior High School, and to encourage school spirit, enthusiasm for everything that is attempted in the Junior High School, or by the Junior High School boys or girls, and to create a feeling in the heart of every boy in school a sense of citizenship and a sense of duty to all fellowmen.

The boys presented a program for the girls; helped at all Junior High functions; improved the school grounds by digging a ditch around the school building and filling it with soil, so we could plant some flowers; dug out the old trees and helped to level the school grounds.

"Miss Brockhausen" is my teacher,
 I shall not pass.
 She maketh me to write "themes."
 She leadeth me into the mysteries of English,
 She recordeth my grade,
 She leadeth me through the tortures of English for her sake.
 Yes, though I fail the exams. of this course,
 I shall fear no D's, for she is with me.
 Her words and her looks, they comfort me.
 She shoots her questions at me in the presence of my friends.
 She fills my head with English.
 My brain runneth over.
 Surely, her image shall follow me all the days of my life,
 And I shall dwell in the fear of English forever.

Fay C.: "Why hasn't 'Mr. Henderson' much hair?"

Roy F.: "Because he thinks a lot."

Fay C.: "But why has 'Miss Moyer' got lots of it?"

Roy F.: "Run along, Fay, and get your algebra."

Mrs. Brown to her son, Billie: "Aunt Lyda will never kiss you with such a dirty face as you have now."

Billie: "That's what I figgered."

Miss Flower: "Use the word 'routine' in a sentence, Clyde."

Clyde O'K.: "I was routine around in some correspondence to find a letter."

DANGEROUS BEAST

The teacher had been telling his class about the rhinoceros family.

"Now, name some things," said Mr. Mitchell, "that are dangerous to get near to and that have horns."

"Automobiles," promptly answered Everett McC.

Mr. Patrick to Evelyn: "Would you play your sax at my funeral, if I died?"

Evelyn: "Why, certainly. Why?"

Mr. Patrick: "Well, I've always had a horror of being buried alive."

Stage Hand: "Shall I lower the curtain?"

Miss Cooper: "Why?"

S. H.: "One of the living statues has the hiccoughs."

Miss Nagel (during operetta practice): "If you boys can't behave up there with decent folks, come down here with me."

Policeman: "How did the accident happen?"

Motorist: "My wife fell asleep in the back seat."

OH, ALEC! ALEC TRICITY!

"Watt-hour you doing there?"

"Eatin' currents," replied the apprentice. "Anode you'd catch me at it."

"Wire you insulate this morning?" asked the boss.

"Leyden bed. Wouldn't that jar you?"

"Can't your relay-shunts get up?"

"Amperently not."

"Fuse going to do that every day you can go ohm," said the boss, and the circuit was broke right there.

Merle Hodgson: "I know a town that is named after you."

Kenneth Stone (proudly): "Yes? What is it?"

Merle Hodgson: "Marblehead, Arkansas."

Bertha Buchanan: "If a lad had a step-father, would that make the lad a step-ladder?"

Mr. Copner: "I'm no science teacher. Ask Mr. Maxwell."

GOOD WORDS CLUB MEMBER

The supervisor of a Western railroad received the following note from one of his track foremen:

"I am sending in the accident report on Stasey's foot when he struck it with the spike maul. Now, under 'Remarks,' do you want mine or do you want Stasey's?"

Barbara Mifflin: "Say, do worms have appendicitis?"

Jack Clark: "Search me."

NO SUCH PLACE

"Where did the car hit this man?" asked Lawyer Garner, when questioning the attending physician at the trial.

"At the junction of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae," responded the doctor.

The foreman of the jury rose in his seat and remarked: "I've lived in this county for upwards of fifty years and I know every crossroad, but I never heard of any such place; I believe it's a made-up case."

"THE SENIORS"

"To the Senior High Building"

From room to room I wander
The whole big building o'er,
You seem so much nearer and dearer
Than ever you have before.

I hear the click of the typewriters
As the students' fingers fly,
This sound I'll carry with me
When I bid you goodbye.

Oh, how many students,
Have your wise old arms unfurled
And we, the Class of '31,
Pass out into the world.

Josephine Blaine: "Do you swim?"

Lindsay Winkler: "Yes."

Josephine: "Well, never go in the water after a good meal."

Lindsay: "Why not?"

Josephine: "You won't find it there."

Harvey S.: "Are you cold, Ottie? Do you want my coat?"

Leotta K.: "No, just your sleeve."

COMMENCEMENT DAYS

. . . . . happy days.

Soon the seniors will walk out into the world,
their high school days over forever.

To help speed their progress in the business world they will find a good bank connection a valuable asset.

We invite both graduates and students to make this their banking home.

You Pay for Kellys— Why Not Have Kellys?

Contrary to general belief, Kelly-Springfield tires are not high-priced. Their reputation has given many people the idea that because Kellys are so good they must cost more.

If you'll drop in and see us the next time you are in the neighborhood, we believe you'll be surprised to learn how Kelly prices run.

When you can buy the best for the same price, why be content with less?

YOUNG AMERICA, WE GREET YOU!

All hail the maid and the youth of Colville and community.

We heartily congratulate you on this occasion—your graduation. It should be a proud moment for you. It marks an achievement in your life. It is an early example of the success that patience, application and hard work will bring.

From the bottom of our hearts we wish you joy, health, prosperity and success in the journey down life's trail which winds ahead of you into far distant years.

Be of good courage! This world is a wonderful place in which to live. Look for the good in others, and your own good qualities will be more easily discerned.

Some of you may go into the higher realms of education. Others will take their places in the business world. Wherever your pathway lies, remember you have the world's greatest asset—glorious youth, with its strength, enthusiasm, daring, and its refusal to admit it is ever whipped—and as a result, it never is.

Barmans welcomes you into your new responsibilities and broader activities. We regard you as an important and vital factor in the life of Colville and community.

This store has had the privilege of serving your parents before you. We trust our service to them has been of a character that will merit your confidence and consideration.

May we again wish you unbounded success—and a long life and a happy one.
